

A wide-angle photograph of a modern fashion design studio. On the left, a mannequin wears a dark, structured jacket. In the center, a person in a dark dress walks past a mannequin in a black, sleeveless, textured dress. To the right, another mannequin is dressed in a light-colored, asymmetrical, long-sleeved dress. Further right, a fourth mannequin wears a black, strapless, knee-length dress. The background features large windows with vertical light strips. The floor is highly reflective.
